DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Claim 19 is allowable over the art of record because the prior art does not teach a resonant nanotube structure responsive to electromagnetic energy, the nanotube structure comprising: an ordered array of resonant nanotubes arranged on the substrate, and in combination with the remaining claimed limitations.
2. Claim 28 is allowable over the art of record because the prior art does not teach a nanotube gap device for detecting electromagnetic energy comprising a periodically ordered array of carbon nanotube elements arranged perpendicular to the substrate, wherein the array of nanotube elements are arranged at a fixed position relative to one another to define a gap between, and in combination with the remaining claimed limitations.
3. Claim 32 is allowable over the art of record because the prior art does not teach an ordered array of electromagnetic responsive nanotubes comprising a metal catalyst arranged in an ordered array on the substrate, wherein the nanotubes are arranged to extend away from the substrate, and in combination with the remaining claimed limitations.
4. Claim 37 is allowable over the art of record because the prior art does not teach a nanotube band gap device having a substrate with an ordered array of nanotubes thereon, and wherein the nanotubes are responsive to electromagnetic energy and in combination with the remaining claimed limitations.
